Announcing the ITA Legal Educators Resources Collection Now Online

David Winn (The Center for American and International Law) · Monday, September 5th, 2016 · Institute for Transnational Arbitration (ITA), Academic Council

The Academic Council of the Institute for Transnational Arbitration (ITA) is pleased to announce the launch of a new online resource for international arbitration and dispute resolution instructors: International Dispute Resolution Resources for Legal Educators.

The Legal Educators Resources site is designed to gather, classify, and disseminate syllabi, notes, exercises, exams, and other original teaching materials prepared by international arbitration teachers from around the world. As a truly international endeavor, the collection will not be limited to materials written in English, but we also want to encourage the addition of materials written in Spanish, French, Portuguese, and perhaps other languages by teachers of international arbitration from other countries. We would like to encourage you to submit your own materials as well as reviewing the materials that are already available.

In addition to collecting syllabi and other teaching materials, we are also interested in promoting an exchange of pedagogical approaches, innovative teaching techniques and other strategies, via a dedicated listserv (ITA-LEL).

The website and the listserv are open and accessible to anyone who teaches in the area of international dispute resolution, either full or part-time.

The screenshot displays the 'Explore Practice Plus' interface. It features a navigation bar with a checkmark icon and the text 'Explore Practice Plus'. Below this, there are two overlapping window views. The foreground window shows a user profile for 'Gary S. Barr' with a profile picture, name, and various data points. Below the profile, there are three circular charts representing relationship indicators. The background window shows a similar interface with a 'Relationship Indicator' section and a list of results based on cases within Kluwer. At the bottom of the image, there is a blue banner with the text 'Kluwer Arbitration' on the left and the 'Wolters Kluwer' logo on the right.
