We are happy to report that the latest issue of the ASA Bulletin is now available and includes the following articles and cases:

ARTICLES

Elliott GEISINGER, De la musique avant toute chose, et pour cela préfère l'impair

In his last message as ASA President, Elliott GEISINGER exhorts us to prefer the “uneven” in arbitration, namely diversity.

Matthias SCHERER, Angela CASEY, Domestic Review of Investment Treaty Arbitrations: the Swiss Experience Revisited

This article offers an overview of the decisions of the Swiss Supreme Court rendered in the past decade involving treaty claims or claims under the Energy Charter Treaty: Russia v. Yukos – Hungary v. EDF – Recofi v. Vietnam – Poland v.

Hortel – Serbia v. Mytilineos – Russia v. Ukrnafta & Stabil – India v. Deutsche Telekom.

David ROSENTHAL, Complying with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) in International Arbitration – Practical Guidance

David ROSENTHAL provides practical guidance on how to comply with data protection requirements under the EU General DATA Protection Regulation (GDPR) in international arbitration. A template data protection agreement is included at the end of the article.

Gustavo SCHEFFER DA SILVEIRA, Brazilian Special Appeal No. 1.639.035-SP, 18 September 2018, Paranapanema S/A vs/ BTG Pactual S/A and Santander Brasil S/A

Gustavo SCHEFFER DA SILVEIRA comments on the recent decision rendered by Brazilian courts in the Paranapanema case, in which the courts found that the arbitration agreement in a contract extended to two connected contracts, despite the exclusive forum selection clause they contained, on the basis that all three contracts formed a single economic transaction.

Johannes LANDBRECHT, Commercial Arbitration in the Era of the Singapore Convention and the Hague Court Conventions

Johannes LANDBRECHT presents the Singapore Convention (2018) concerning mediated settlements, the Hague Choice of Court Convention (2005) and Hague Judgment Convention (2019) and considers their impact on the competitiveness of international commercial arbitration.

Simon GABRIEL, Congruence of the NYC and Swiss lex arbitri regarding extension of arbitral jurisdiction to non-signatories. BGE 145 III 199 (BGer Nr. 4A_646/2018)

Simon GABRIEL reports on a recent decision of the Swiss Supreme Court relating to the extension of arbitration agreements to non-signatories under the New York

Convention (NYC). The central question is whether non-signatories may rely on Article II NYC to resist a state court's jurisdiction.

Morten FRANK, Arbitration 'if any' or 'to be settled': A pathological yet curable agreement to arbitrate?

This article focuses on the interpretation and legal consequences of pathological arbitration clauses providing for arbitration "if any", "if required" or "to be settled" in the light of the case law of English and U.S. courts.

Lorenz RAESS, Challenging Court Assistance in the Taking of Evidence in International Arbitration - the Swiss Perspective

This contribution sheds light on how to challenge decisions rendered by Swiss state courts at the seat of the arbitration when called upon by parties or an arbitral tribunal to assist in the taking of evidence under Article 184(2) of the Swiss Private International Law Act.
