2013 SIEL/CUP Prize for an Essay in International Economic Law

Lorand Bartels (University of Cambridge, Faculty of Law) · Tuesday, August 13th, 2013

A prize has been established by the Society of International Economic Law and Cambridge University Press for the best essay submitted on any topic in any field of international economic law.

The competition is open to all current undergraduate and graduate students of any university or other tertiary education institution, and those who have graduated from a university or other tertiary education institution no earlier than five years before the submission deadline (i.e. those who graduated prior to 30 September 2008 are not eligible for the 2013 Prize).

The prize consists of £200, as well as £300 of Cambridge University Press book vouchers and a three year subscription to the World Trade Review. The winning essay will be submitted to the World Trade Review for publication, and the prize winner will be invited to present the winning entry at the 2014 SIEL Conference at the World Trade Institute, Bern.

The deadline for submission is 30 September 2013
