
Kluwer Arbitration Blog

Wolters Kluwer Takes Over European Investment Law and Arbitration Review From Brill

Nikos Lavranos (NL-Investmentconsulting) · Thursday, November 16th, 2023

Since 2016, when the first issue of the European Investment Law and Arbitration Review was published, the Review has tracked developments in the new and increasingly important field of European investment law and arbitration.

The Review is still the only law journal that specifically focuses on the impact that EU law has on bilateral investment treaties (BITs) of EU member states, the Energy Charter Treaty (ECT) as well as the EU's new generation trade and investment treaties such as the EU-Canada Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA).

In addition, the Review has been covering the work of the UNCITRAL Working Group III on investor-State dispute settlement reforms as well as other recent developments such as the impact of the Paris Agreement on foreign direct investments.

In short, the Review has developed into the main forum for the brightest legal minds in the field of European investment law and arbitration.

Therefore, the takeover of the Review by Wolters Kluwer from Brill marks an important milestone for the future development of the Review.

Indeed, as from 2024, the publication frequency of the Review will be doubled to two issues per year with in-depth examination of the most important legal issues affecting this field of law. The Review will continue to feature long and short articles as well as case notes and book reviews. In addition, a chronicle section will be included which will summarize the most recent developments.

Moreover, online pre-publication will be offered to all authors, meaning that approved articles will be made available online immediately. In addition, the Review will continue to be available in print as well as digitally on Kluwer Law Online.

Furthermore, the Review will be fully integrated into Kluwer Arbitration, thereby significantly expanding its visibility and availability for all users in the arbitration community.

The takeover of the Review is another important building block in the growing collection of analysis and case law on Investment Arbitration, confirming Kluwer Arbitration as the one-stop shop for arbitration research.

Accordingly, the overall impact of the Review will considerably increase.

For the 2024 issues, we have published a Call for Papers inviting unpublished materials that fall within the scope of the Review on a rolling basis. The Call for Papers with all relevant information can be found here.

We are also inviting submissions for the Young Practitioners and Scholars Essay Competition 2024. All relevant information can be found here.

To make sure you do not miss out on regular updates from the Kluwer Arbitration Blog, please subscribe here. To submit a proposal for a blog post, please consult our Editorial Guidelines.

Profile Navigator and Relationship Indicator

Access 17,000+ data-driven profiles of arbitrators, expert witnesses, and counsels, derived from Kluwer Arbitration's comprehensive collection of international cases and awards and appointment data of leading arbitral institutions, to uncover potential conflicts of interest.

Learn how Kluwer Arbitration can support you.

Newly updated

Profile Navigator and Relationship Indicator Tools

Wolters Kluwer

Request your free trial now →

The advertisement features a dark background with vibrant, diagonal light streaks in shades of green and orange. On the right side, there are two overlapping screenshots of the software interface. The top screenshot shows a 'Profile Navigator' page with a list of profiles and their details. The bottom screenshot shows a 'Relationship Indicator' page with a network diagram and various data points. The Wolters Kluwer logo is positioned in the bottom left corner, and a call-to-action button is in the bottom right corner.

This entry was posted on Thursday, November 16th, 2023 at 10:51 am and is filed under Kluwer Arbitration Blog

You can follow any responses to this entry through the Comments \(RSS\) feed. You can leave a response, or trackback from your own site.

